

Special Use Parking Permits

Caregiver Parking Permit

Caregiver parking permits are issued to residents who require on-going medical care. The caregiver permit exempts the caregiver's vehicle for both daytime and overnight parking restrictions but does not exempt the vehicle from no parking restrictions (e.g., street sweeping, parking meters, or curb markings).

An applicant must submit the original copy of a letter signed by a physician or director of a nursing agency providing caregiver services, on official letterhead stationery with the following information:

- Current date
- Name of the caregiver and duration of services, including frequency of service
- Name of patient and address
- License plate and make of the vehicle that will be parked on the street
- Completed Caregiver Permit Application (contact office for application)

Permit Restrictions:

- Permits may only be issued for the duration stated on the doctor's letter and for no longer than 6 months. Residents who need on-going medical care generally still are required to renew their caregiver permits with an original doctor's letter every 6 months.
- Staff may only issue two hangtag caregiver permits per address.
- These permits are not specific to one caregiver's vehicle; thus different caregivers may use the same permit.
- Caregiver permits are only valid on the block(s) staff has listed on the permit itself.

Moving Van Permits

Moving van permits are issued by the Engineering Department at (310) 285-1141.

Construction Permits

Worker Vehicles

The Transportation Department does not issue construction permits for worker vehicles related to construction activity. These vehicles are required to follow posted signage or park in an off-street structure. Regular call-in exemptions or residential PPP permits may be used for resident or worker vehicles related to short-term, residential construction activity.

- Generally, parking enforcement officers do not cite vehicles that have company logos or a City of Beverly Hills business license decal displayed; therefore, these vehicles do not need an exemption or permit.
- For larger construction projects, the Engineering Department may issue a "street use" permit allowing complete use of the street directly adjacent to the construction site
- For loading (e.g., cement truck, lumber) the Engineering Department issues special loading permits.
- Some streets that are narrow and/or located in hills-side areas need to coordinate construction parking through the City's Building and Safety Department

Resident Construction Permit

The Transportation Department does not issue permits that exempt resident vehicles from the posted daytime and overnight restrictions when the resident has obtained the proper construction permits from the Engineering Department. Please contact the Building and Safety Department (310) 285-1141.

- Construction parking permits may be issued for up to 90 days
- Residents must come in person to the office to apply for this permit
- Issued only when construction blocks access to a residents' driveway

Class One Permits

Class One Permits are issued to certain City employees and elected/appointed officials who volunteer their time to the City. Class One permits exempt vehicles from meters, parking structure fees, permit zones and time-limit restrictions while performing service to the community. The license plate number is recorded on the permit, which is only valid on the corresponding vehicle.
